

Help Raise the Barre On Ballet Schooling

Join CDA with a Membership Like None Other

Why is CDA generating such interest among members of the dance community? They share our vision of fostering excellence in Classical Dance schooling. They understand the power of pedagogy as a tool for better training. They see the potential of a resource organization that supports their own artistic efforts and aspirations. And they like the idea of building an alliance of like-minded individuals that is an outgrowth of the community it serves. All this makes CDA different from any other dance organization you can join. Thank you for your vital support!
